Mr. Philo C. Dunsmore

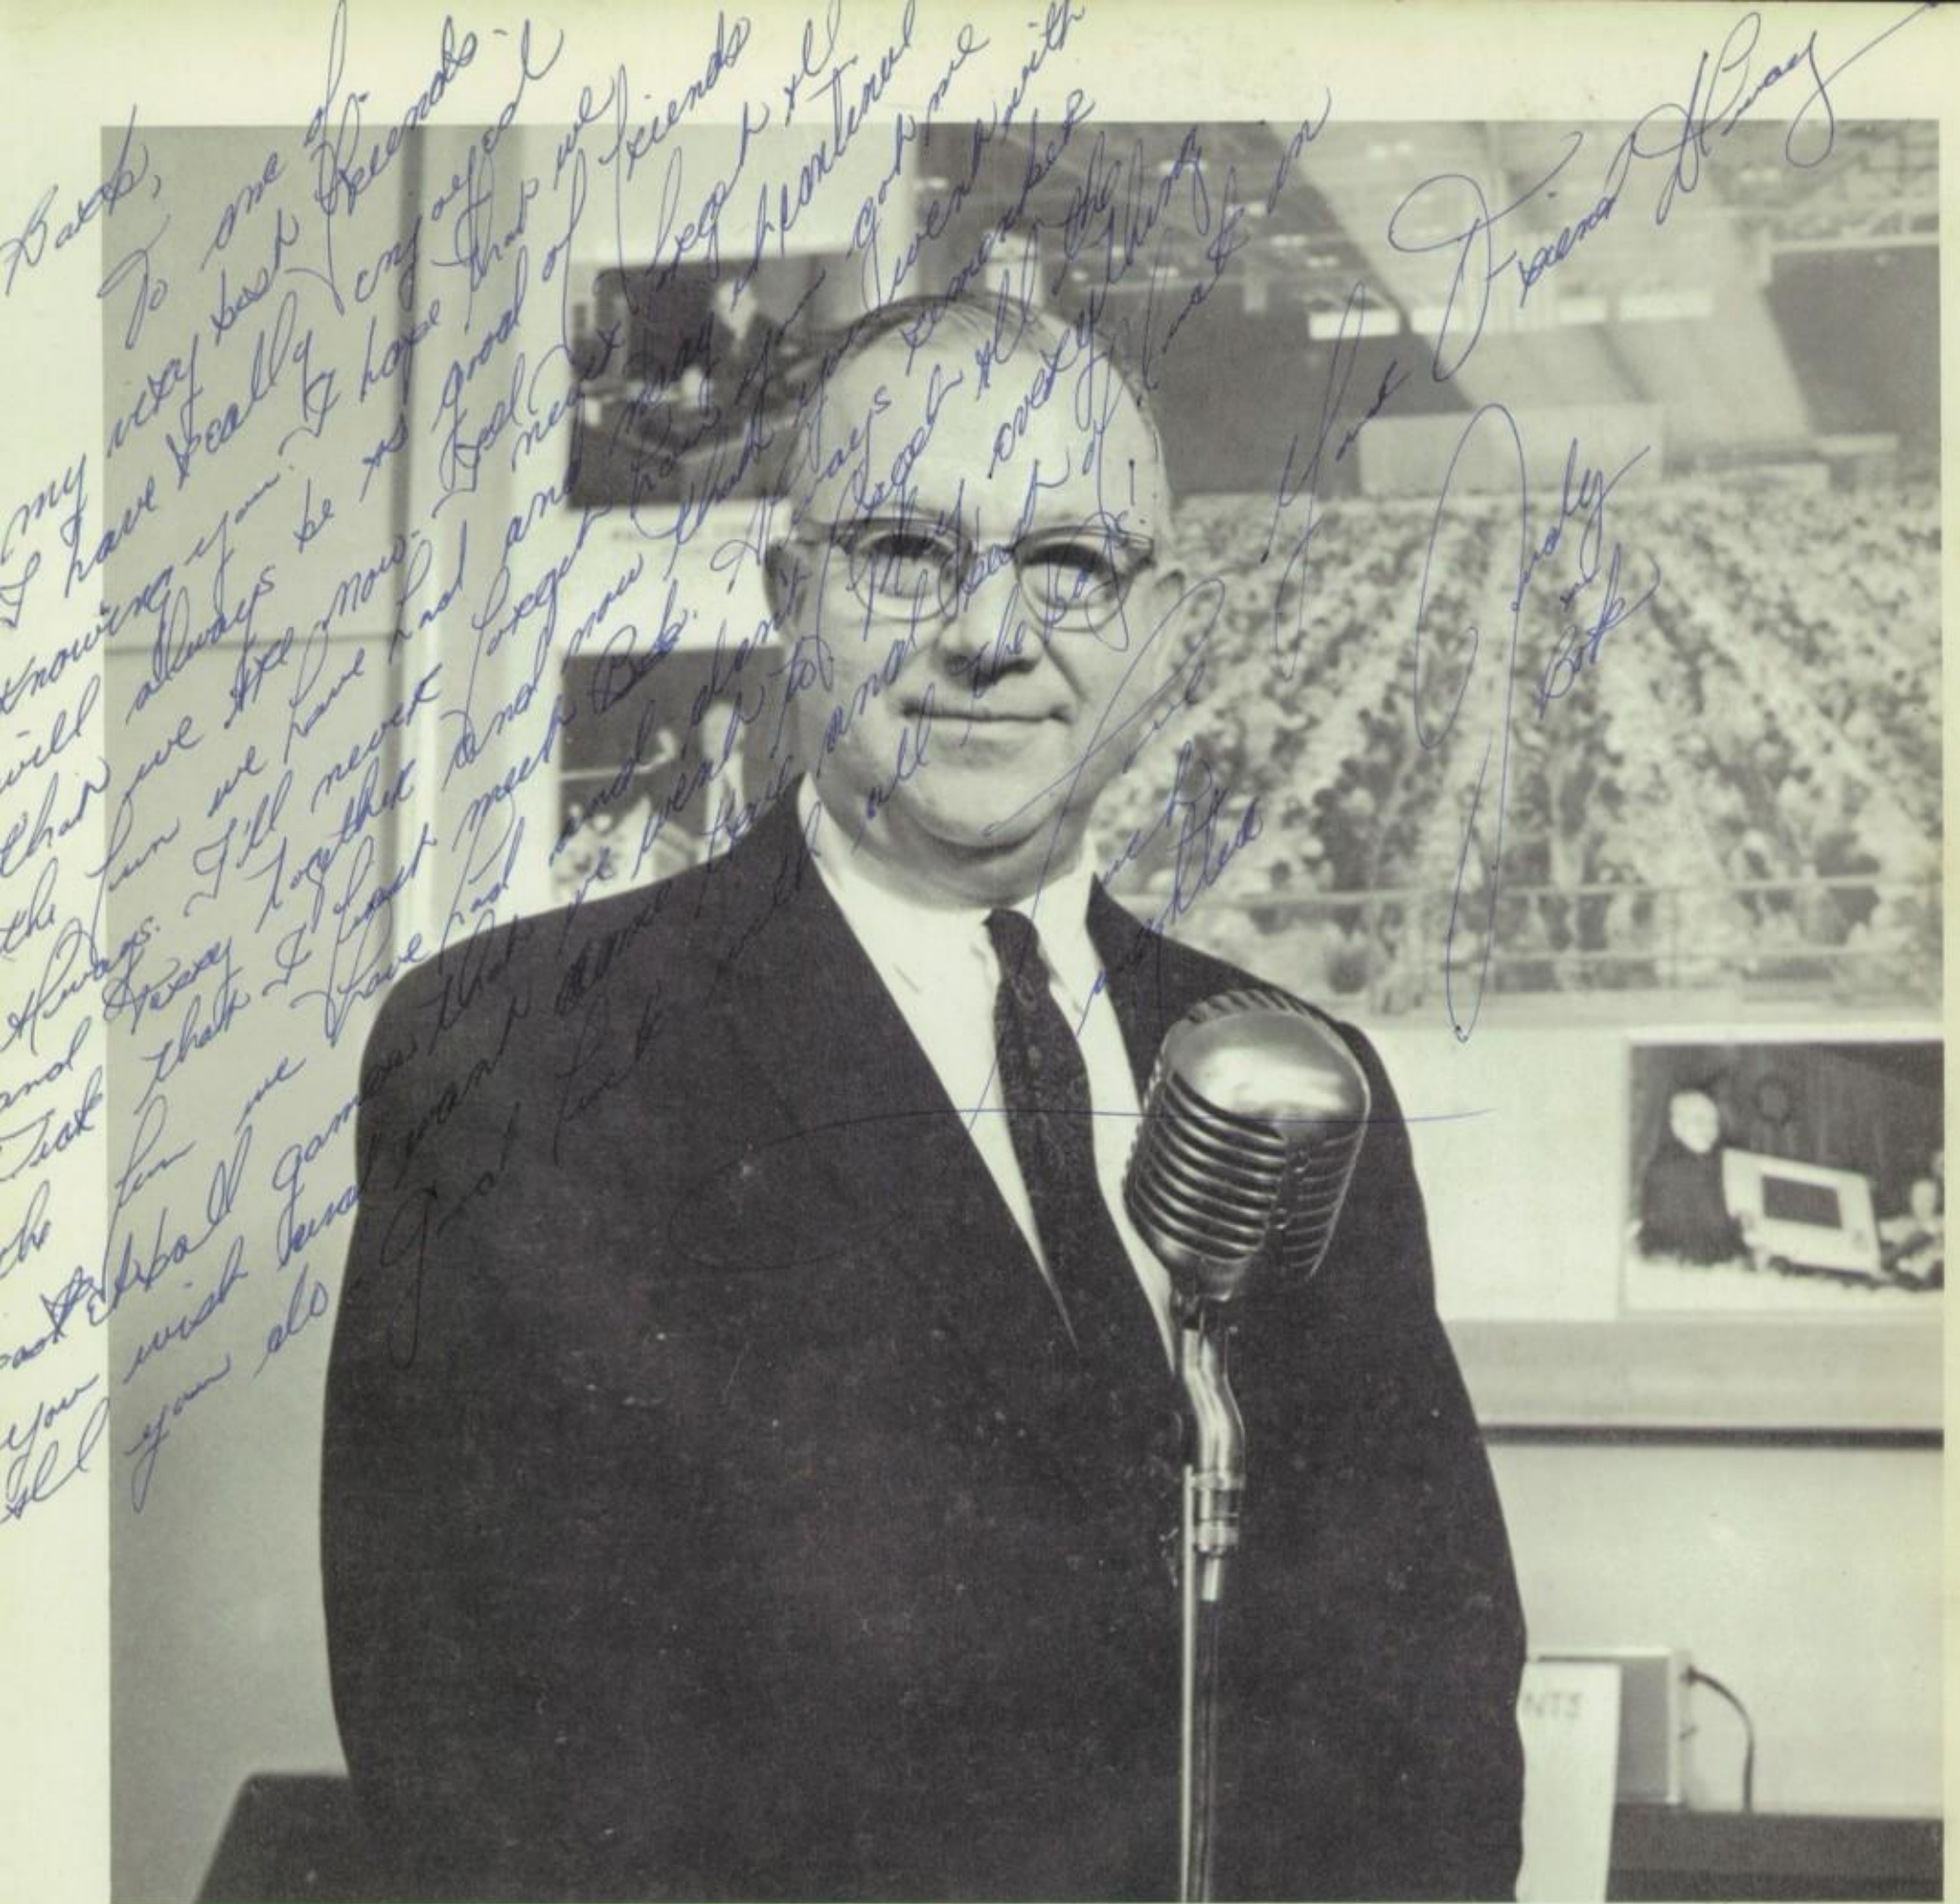

To Mr. Philo C. Dunsmore, the Golden Anniversary Class wants to extend its many thanks. Through your great interest, deep insight, and outstanding abilities, the school system has grown and advanced during your years of leadership.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mrs. Carol A. Pietrykowski, Mr. J. Arch Anderson, Dr. Morton Goldberg, Mr. David R. Rittenhouse, Mr. William N. Thomas.

Our GOLDEN richness . . .

In the past 50 years Morrison R. Waite High School has graduated approximately 13,000 individuals, who now carry with them the "golden memories" of their years at Waite.

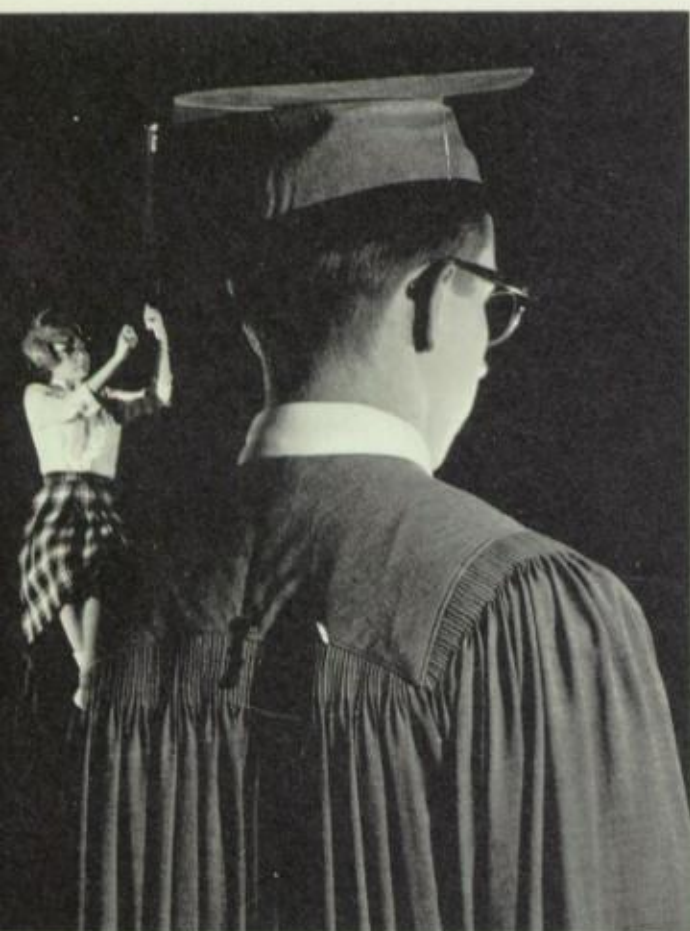

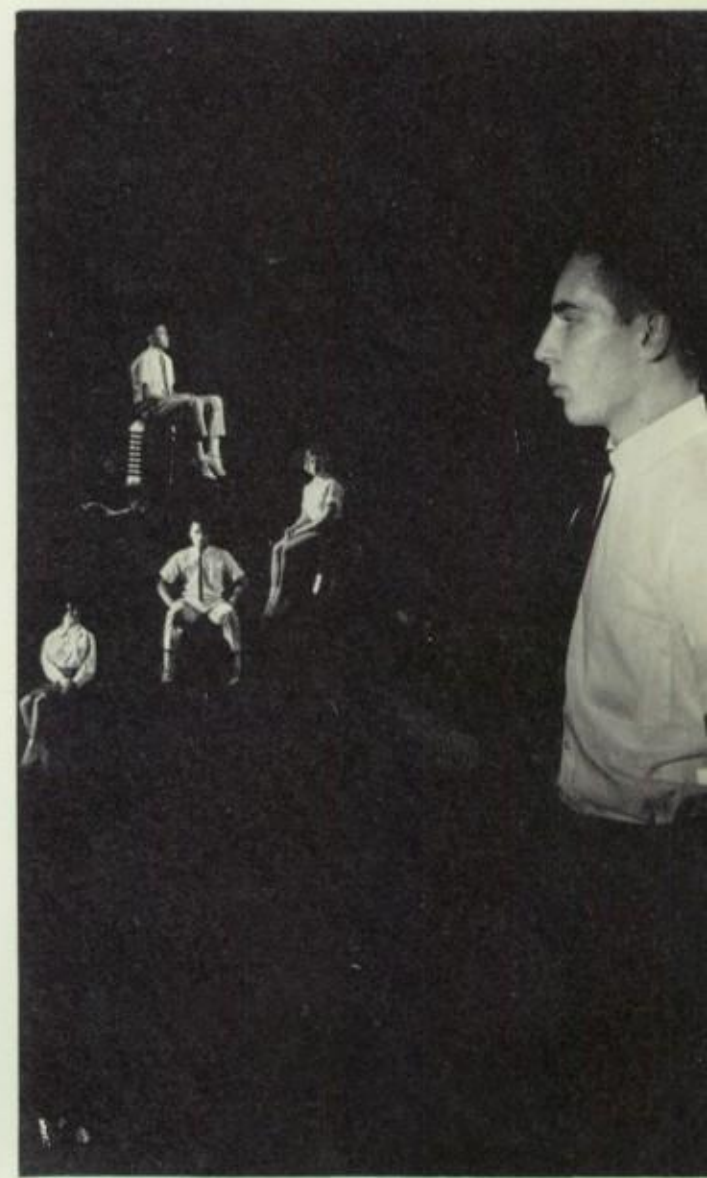

If the school could look over the United States it would see its alumni in all corners of the country, working and progressing and bringing recognition and honor to Waite, which it most certainly deserves. In this respect we feel that Waite has been rewarded for its outstanding educational program.

Because of these alumni and the present students, Waite has been given a richness that cannot be equalled. With our "pot of gold" we have tried to symbolize this "golden richness"—our theme for this "Golden Anniversary" yearbook.

Included in this book is a supplement which will help to recapture some of the "golden memories" of the past 50 years, as well as revealing some of the highlights of the five decade reunions.

DEDICATION

Morrison R. Waite High is able to celebrate its Golden Anniversary this year (1964) because of the firm foundation laid by C. M. Nordolf and associates, and the instructional foundation laid by those teachers on the first faculties. A structure, material or spiritual, is as strong and enduring as its foundation. Thus, without either the firmness of the architectural foundation or the soundness of the instructional foundation, Morrison R. Waite High would have been a structure built upon the sands. A structure that would have weakened and eroded with time.

But because the firm C. M. Nordolf, architects, was dedicated to the principle of sound structural planning, the building today remains a beautiful architectural edifice, admired by those in attendance, cherished by those who have graduated therefrom, and esteemed by those citizens neighboring it.

Now, too, to those dedicated teachers of the Faculty of Waite High we here pay TRIBUTE. We know it was their torch of dedication, held high, that lighted dark footpaths to purposeful lives and useful citizenship. Accordingly, to their patience, kindness, unselfishness, steadfastness, understanding, and courage, we, their followers, pay HONOR.

We, who follow in their footsteps are poignantly aware of our deep responsibility not to let their torch be dimmed nor fall into the dust. We realize that they too, must have felt at times, that certain waste of talent, but because of their dedication and their courage, they stayed on—knowing the need.

These, our teachers, were brilliantly aware that not all of us can do the same things, that not all of us are adapted to the same type and quality of work, and that not all of us are charged with the same duties. Without this strong influence and knowledge, Waite High would not today claim so many skilled and professional men and women, as our Alumni Roster proves.

Thus, it is with humility that we "followers" seek and strive "to carry the torch" handed to us in our olympic race for truth, by those who had the courage, and strength, and the stature of those, the "perfect men," the Faculty of Waite High, who "ran" before us.

Firm upon this foundation, lighted on our way by this gleaming torch, we, the followers, sing always in our hearts, hear ever in our ears, "Loyal, Loyal to old Waite High . . . We will ever be!"

To Barb,

One of my dearest friends,
I have known you almost 6
years now and during those years we have had alot of nice times together. You've always been there when I needed a shoulder to lean on, and your smiling face and good advice have pulled me out of many jams. You are very cute and have a wonderful personality.
I hope that you will have the best of everything, always. I hope that we can always remain the good friends we are today. Best of
